

but late Monday the military academy released a statement saying he had decided to withdraw from speaking and would be replaced by another speaker. However, a source close to the controversy told Fox News & Commentary that Boykin was pressured to withdraw. "It was very clear they wanted General Boykin to withdraw," said the source who asked not to be identified.

And after you see what they've done to an American icon like General Boykin, you certainly understand why. "He asked them to rescind the invitation, but they were reluctant to do that. So he said he would take them off the hook."

Theresa Brinkerhoff, a spokesperson for West Point, told Fox News & Commentary that the U.S. Military Academy "did not decide this for him."

Nothing is worse than political correctness and mistreatment of military heroes than dishonesty in doing so.

"After a conversation with our chaplain, Lieutenant General Boykin decided to withdraw," Brinkerhoff wrote in an email.

Boykin, a former senior military intelligence officer, had been criticized for speeches he made at evangelical Christian churches where he said that America's enemy is Satan, that God had put President Bush in the White House, and that a Muslim Somali warlord was an idol worshiper.

That was enough to decide to try to destroy an American hero.

Army Times has an article, "Retired 3-Star's West Point Invite Draws Protest," all about the controversy. New York Times, "General Withdraws from West Point Talk."

The message is coming loud and clear to our military: If you're a Christian, if you're a person of faith, as demonstrated through George Washington's life and times, you better keep your mouth shut or this administration and those who are in charge of political correctness will see to it that you regret being so.

There's another article by Rebecca Leung, "The Holy Warrior," it's entitled, another interesting article. This goes right along with this administration's zeal to avoid recognizing the enemy against us.

I, along with DANA ROHRBACHER, STEVE KING, LORETTA SANCHEZ, we met with Northern Alliance leaders, including General Dostum, the hero in fighting the Taliban. Now, these are Muslims. Some try to paint us as xenophobes, Islamophobes.

Isn't it interesting, that term came as a strategy to try to scare off, embarrass, humiliate people who stood up for what was right against Muslim terrorists who want to destroy us, trying to intimidate us into not using the word "Muslim." For heaven's sake, we know. They're our Muslim friends. The Northern Alliance, they're our allies. They're Muslims. We talked about it. We met with some Baluks from southern Pakistan, their leaders there. They're Muslim. They're our friends. They don't want to destroy us. They want to support us, and some of us want to support them.

And yet this administration has such a wrongheaded approach to those who want to destroy our way of life. It can best be illustrated in this chart illustrating political correctness run amok.

The 9/11 Commission report was prepared in a bipartisan fashion before people knew that the Organization of Islamic States, the Islamic Society of North America, CAIR would make such attacks on those who dare to point out that even though it's not the mass Muslim population who are our enemy, there are those small groups within the Muslim community who want to destroy our way of life. How can you understand and anticipate your enemy's actions, the enemy that has sworn to destroy you, unless you study what they believe and you understand what their approach is and you understand that people like Ahmadinejad—I'm running out of time.

Well, let me conclude by just pointing to this chart. In the commission report, 322 times Islam is mentioned; jihad is mentioned 126 times. And now it is inappropriate, under this administration, to mention jihad. It's inappropriate for our Justice, Intelligence, State to talk about jihad. It doesn't mention al Qaeda. It doesn't mention Hezbollah, Hamas, sharia.

This administration has run aground, and they have brought their ship right on top of real American heroes.

With that, Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.
